The ORCID registry is an open, interconnected hub of profile data. By integrating with ORCID, you can contribute affiliation data and extend the reach of your systems. Sharing data with ORCID can help you to avoid being locked into costly, proprietary systems.

ORCID is a non-profit, community-driven provider of unique and persistent identifiers to researchers. Membership is open to any organization interested in supporting our work, integrating ORCID metadata with their systems, adding trusted metadata to their researchers' ORCID records, or participating in our governance.

Connecting Research and Researchers