Q&A

Q&A

Question

What has been the one thing that has most surprised you about ORCID's development over the past 10 years?

Answer

CHRIS: The degree of goodwill and support that ORCID has received, and continues to receive, from all sectors of the community.

Question

How can Polytechnics better index workshops and conferences in order to ensure and or promote visibility of researchers?

Answer

CHRIS: Member organizations can deposit this data to their researchers' profiles (with the researchers' permission). Reach out to your Engagement Lead if you'd like to know more.

Question

How will Orcid ID be used to link all my researcher accounts like Clarivate Publons?

Answer

CHRIS: Researchers can add external IDs, such as Clarivate's Researcher ID, to their ORCID profile by using functionality provided by many external platforms to link the platform account with their ORCID record.

Question

I would like to learn more about ORCID's plans to further integrate their API with the APIs of other major PID providers!

Answer

CHRIS: We hope to announce more about this next year.

Q&A

Question

What advice do you have to other start-up efforts in our field? (for how they should approach launching/growing their programs?)

Answer

CHRIS: The specifics of every community-driven effort are different, but one thing we learned in the first decade of ORCID is that the path to sustainability and adoption is long and twisting. In conjunction with our 10th anniversary, we have published a booklet documenting our journey, in the hope that others will be able to learn from our successes and mistakes!

WILL: I believe that good governance is very important, and that was part of the success of ORCID: governance that is effective, but also representative of the community in a concrete way. Sorry, it's boring, but I think it is true.
